Mere Hissey Ki Shyaahi

by Ritu Gupta Garg

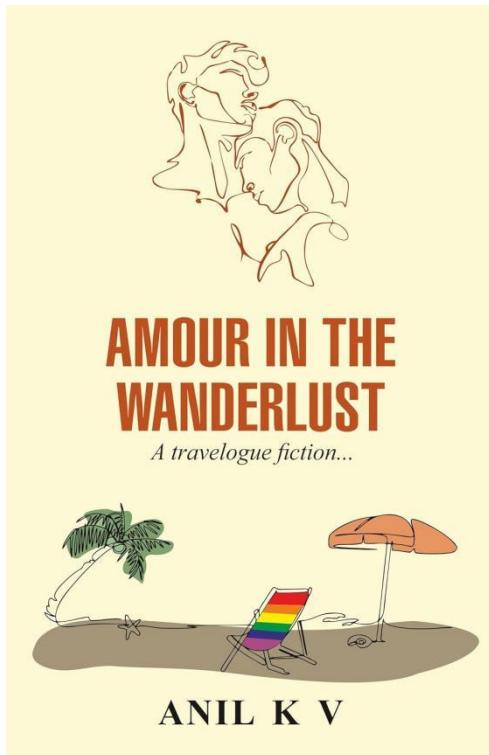

ये शब्दों का ताना-बाना शायद आपको कभी कविता लगे तो कभी कहानी शायद कभी निबंध लगे तो कभी पत्र और शायद बस इधर-उधर बेपरवाह से बिखरे, बहते, कुछ अटपटा सा कहते मात्र कुछ शब्द लगे, ये कुछ स्वच्छंद रूप से लिखे गये विचार हैं जो इस पुस्तक रूपी छोटे से घर में एक साथ रहते हैं और इन सब को अगर कोई

एक चीज़ परस्पर बाँधती है तो वह है- इनका जिंदगी से जुड़ाव. या यूँ कहिए कि.. ये कुछ भाव हैं जो स्थाही में इबे हैं जिंदगी के बदलते मूँड और मंसूबे हैं, और मेरे प्राणाधार, मेरे सदगुरु श्री साई बाबा को मेरा नैवेद्य हैं. और मेरे दिवंगत पापा "श्री श्री गोपाल जी" को समर्पित हैं. आशा करती हूँ, कि बस कुछ इस तरह से मेरी आवाज़ में आपके दिल की आवाज़ मिल जाये कि आप किसी न किसी रचना में एक वाकफियत का एहसास कर पायें और अपने चेहरे पर एक हल्की सी मुस्कान ले आयें या आपकी आँख में एक छोटा सा नमकीन समदर उभर आगे या आपके दिल में एक नया ऊर्जा प्रवाहित हो जाये. भला एक लेखक का इसके अतिरिक्त और क्या उद्देश्य हो सकता है।

Swarupa Chintamani

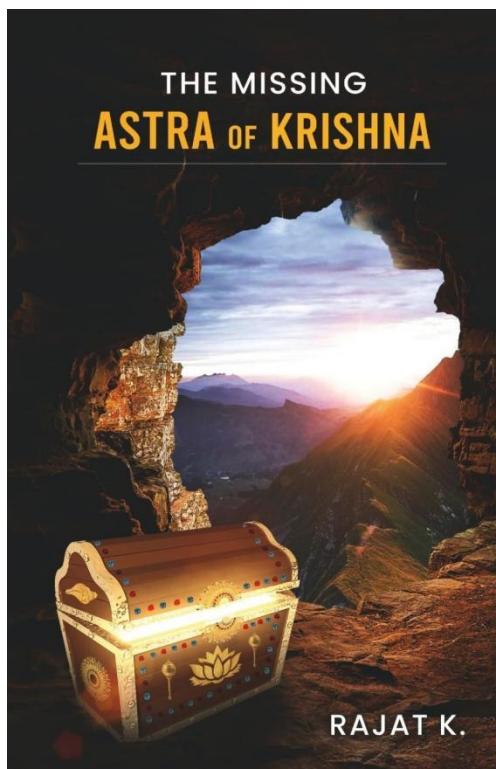

by Swami Shashwat Ji

स्वयं को जानना हर व्यक्ति का जन्मसिद्ध अधिकार है। सारी दुनियाँ को जानकर भी अगर खुद को न जाना तो आपने क्या जाना! जीवन भर बाहर चाहे कितने भी दीपक आपने जलाये, लेकिन अगर अंदर की आत्मा ज्योति को देखना भूल गए तो बाहर दीपक जलाने का कोई मूल्य नहीं रह जाता! उन्हें तो देर-सबेर बुझ ही जाना है। जिस परम शांति और परम सत्य के लिए व्याकुल होकर भटकते हों वह आपके भीतर विद्यमान है, आप स्वयं वही हो। भटकना छोड़कर अपने आत्मस्वरूप की छाँव में विश्राम करो जहाँ मन की पीड़ा और ताप आपको छूते नहीं हैं। एक दशक से अधिक समय से भिन्न-भिन्न देशों के साधकों ने समय-समय पर स्वामी शाश्वत जी से विभिन्न अध्यात्मिक विचारधाराओं पर प्रश्न किए और स्वामी जी ने उनकी स्थिति को देखकर जो उत्तर दिए, उन्हीं प्रश्नोत्तरों का संकलन इस पुस्तक में है। स्वामी जी केवल जिज्ञासुओं के प्रश्नों के उत्तर नहीं देते बल्कि उन प्रश्नों को ही समाप्त कर देते हैं। उनकी उपस्थिति में, हमें केवल मौन रहना है, उस पवित्र मौन को सुनना हैं, उस शाश्वत आनंद को पहचानना है, जो हम हैं और जिसमें सब कुछ सहज रूप से घटित होता है।

Shiksha: Mera Janam Siddh Adhikar

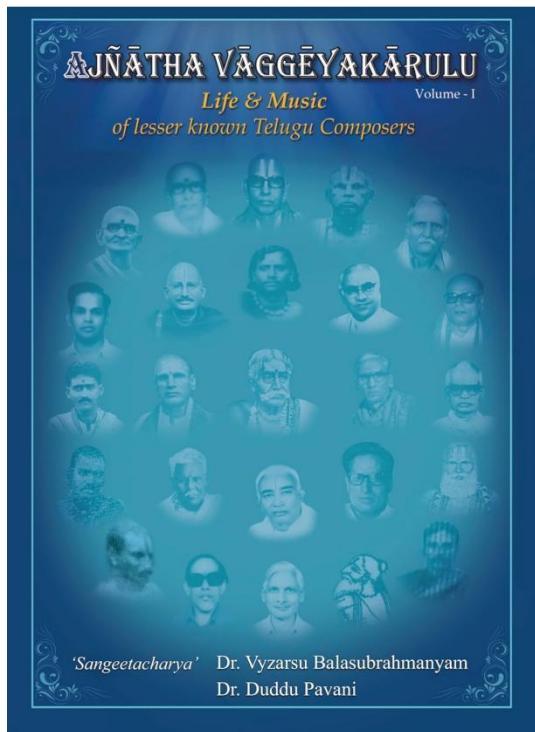

by Umed Singh Saroh

व्यक्ति एक सामाजिक प्राणी है। इसलिए उसे अपने समाज में रहकर समाज के प्रति कुछ कर्तव्यों का निर्वहन करना होता है। और समाज के एक अंग की हैसियत से हर व्यक्ति अपेक्षा करता है कि अन्य लोग उसके प्रति एक संवेदनशील, व्यवहारिक, उदारवादी, विवेक पूर्ण दृष्टिकोण रखें और यह दृष्टिकोण आपकी बुद्धि के विकास पर निर्भर करता है और बुद्धि का विकास होता है शिक्षा से हर व्यक्ति को अपने नैसर्गिक गुणों को अपने उच्चतम शिखर तक पहुंचने के लिए उचित शिक्षा का अवसर प्राप्त करना उतना ही जरूरी है जितना किसी बीज को जमीन में डाल देने के बाद दी जाने वाली खाद, हवा वा पानी। ताकि वह अपने सभी गुणों को अपनी उच्चतम अवस्था तक विकसित कर सके। इस देश का दुर्भाग्य रहा है कि यहां की सामाजिक व्यस्था ने एक बड़े वर्ग को शिक्षा से महसूल रखा जिसके चलते इस देश का कीमती मानव संसाधन केवल एक प्रशिक्षित पशु के समान रहा। आजादी के कुछ सालों बाद जब उन्हें शिक्षा का अधिकार मिला तो विश्व भर में एक शिक्षित मानव संसाधन के रूप में इस देश के नागरिकों की पहचान हुई। भारत के संविधान में दिए गए शिक्षा के अधिकार को संवैधानिक अधिकारों की श्रेणी में रखकर संविधान सभा ने संविधान को उच्चतम शिखर प्रदान किया है। आज भारत का संविधान किसी की धार्मिक ग्रंथ से भी श्रेष्ठ है। शिक्षा को उनके मौलिक अधिकार की श्रेणी में रखता है। जो जन्म से हर नागरिक को शिक्षा के अधिकार की तरह संविधान में सुरक्षित है।

जिन्दगी भर कितनी सारी सच्चाइयों से हम सब रूबरू होते रहते हैं। कितनी- कितनी बार आहत होते हैं। पहली बार आहत होने पर दुःख होता है, पर एक दिन लगता है कि अब तो बस आदत सी हो गई है। हाथ झटकाया और आगे बढ़ गए। कदम तो आगे बढ़ते ही रहने चाहिए चूँकि रुकना हार मानना है। अक्सर लोगों को कहते सुना है कि वो जिन्दगी में कुछ करना चाहते हैं (थे), बस अगर 'ऐसा' हो

जाता या फिर 'वैसा' नहीं होता। अपाहिज होना किसी भी स्तर पर और किसी भी तरह से हो सकता है। जब पता चलता है, उस दिन जैसे मन के किसी कोने में कुछ निष्प्राण हो जाता है, बिना कोई आवाज किए। और फिर गुजरते समय के साथ जाने अनजाने संबंधों के - आसपास कितनी सारी ग्रंथियां पनप आती हैं। कितनी तत्त्विक्यों के साथ जीना पड़ता है। मगर जिन्दगी तो फिर भी चलती रहनी चाहिए। कुछ भी हो इस हार-जीत को ढोते रहना और फिर भी आगे बढ़ना, हम सबकी नियति का हिस्सा है और इसी नियति के आसपास धूम रही हैं, इस संग्रह की कविताएं।

Problems of Alienation and Assimilation : The Short Stories of Jhumpa Lahiri and Chitra Banerjee Divakarun

by Soma Guha Das,
Neelanjana Pathak

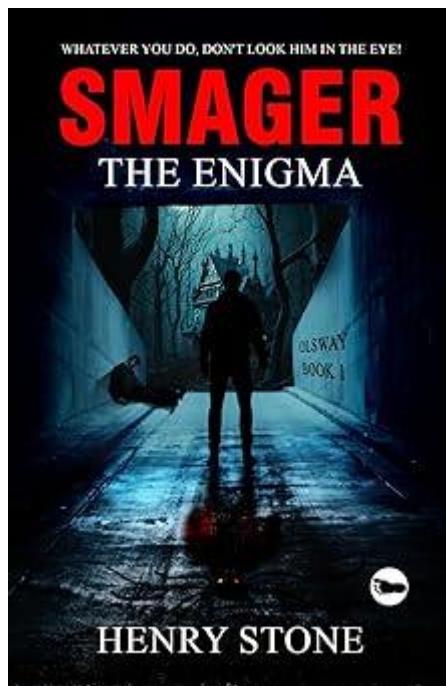

CATALOGUE

In Postcolonial literature, Indian diaspora, today has emerged with "multiplicity of histories, variety of cultures, traditions and a deep instinct for survival". The process of survival of the diasporic individual/community between the "home of origin" and "the world of adoption" becomes the seminal motif of the narratives woven around the lives of these relocated characters. It is a vacillation between roots and wings, oscillating continuously from longing to belonging: a voyage from "alienation" to final "assimilation". Jhumpa Lahiri as an American - Indian as well as Chitra Banerjee Divakaruni, Indian - American novelist, have made deep marks on the world literary canvass. Their stories honestly depict the issues faced during their own cultural relocation. Their characters are displaced (alienated) from their land of origin to USA, where they are simultaneously invisible and, excessively vulnerable as a racial minority till they finally relocate (assimilate) in USA as naturalized citizens. The stories by the two authors give us a clear, vivid and complete picture of the working of the two societies -Indian and American. The readers entirely empathize with the protagonists, and can relate to their psyche, feelings and imagination. This work encapsulates the various journeys undertaken by the fictional characters and can be a rich source for further angles of inquiry, leading to more research on diverse themes related both to the diasporic writers and their fictional worlds.

हैं। इसको लेकर एक शिक्षित समाज हम कैसे बना सकते हैं। कैसे एक युवा, इस किताब से प्रेरणा लेकर अपने प्रति, अपने परिवार के प्रति, अपने समाज के प्रति, और अपने देश के प्रति जिम्मेदारी का निर्वहन कर सकते हैं। अपने से बड़ों का आदर करना, समाज के प्रति जो कर्तव्य है उसके के लिए जागरूक रहना, ईमानदारी केवल ४ किताब पढ़कर, डिग्रीधारी न बनें। इस किताब का उद्देश्य, प्रत्येक व्यक्ति को समाज के उन नैतिक मूल्यों से अवगत करवाना है, जिससे सामाजिक दृष्टिकोण शिक्षा के क्षेत्र में एक व्यापक रूप ले सके। और कर्मठता का परिचय देते हुए समाज को आगे ले के चलना। हमारा यही कहना है की शिक्षण संस्थानों में केवल किताबी ज्ञान तक ही सीमित न रहे। इसके अलावा भी ज्ञान प्राप्त करने की कोशिश करें जो आपके व्यक्तित्व का निर्माण कर सके। अपने समाज के प्रति जो कर्तव्य और जिम्मेदारी हैं उसका निर्वहन करें और एक शिक्षित समाज बनाने की ओर अपना कदम बढ़ाएं, जिससे आने वाली पीढ़ी बेलगाम न बनें। धन्यवाद

The Flying Saucer, the Universe & the Meaning of Life

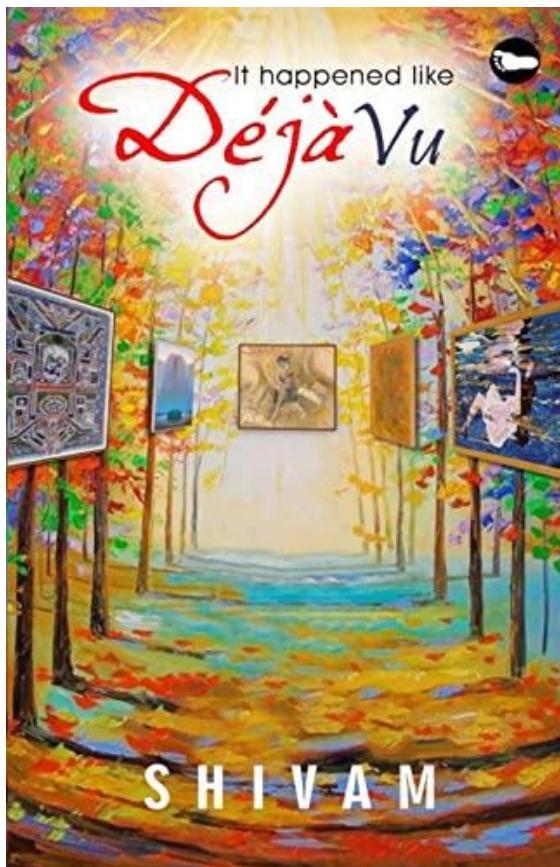

by Jena D Soumya

‘The Flying Saucer, the Universe & the Meaning of Life’ is about the adventures of four friends in a small town in the mountains. Rii, Hima, Sepu and Newton are schoolmates whose normal and ordinary lives are upturned by strange events happening in their nondescript little valley. Their usual playful and normal days seem to be at an end because they can’t wrap their little heads around the bizarre things unfolding in the world around them - things that will change their lives forever. It all begins when hordes of large rats infest their beloved school and the teachers begin to behave strange and aloof, they discover talking-termites in the forgotten library, the headmaster has locked himself up in his room for days and a stranger keeps loitering about the school gate. It only gets weirder when the kids discover that Newton’s grandfather wrote a book almost thirty years ago, of which no copies survive now. They realize that the book is probably the key to all these mysteries – it contains some secrets about rats and an old visit by an unknown flying saucer over their town all those years ago. This triggers the four curious young minds about endless possibilities to be explored. And the adventurous quest begins – where the kids desperately seek to reach the dark bottom of the mystery. And on the way, while solving the strange riddle, they shall learn a thing or two about science, the world, the universe and probably even something as mysterious as the meaning of life.

Maidens of Fate

by Saurav Ranjan Satta

The position of women is unique in India. At one hand, we worship them as representatives of the Primordial Mother Goddess, but on the other hand, they are subjected to numerous atrocities. This ‘weltanschauung’, a comprehensive conception in our minds of the power of a primordial mother goddess in each woman is present in every Indian’s life and resonates with the belief that this feminine superpower will look after all her children in the form of a mortal mother, whose love for her children is considered the greatest in this world. However, at the same time, a girl child is not desirable in the majority of the households here. This is such a paradox that has amazed everybody all across the world. ‘Maidens of Fate’ tells the stories of twelve such Indian women in their various trials and tribulations in this vast land. All the stories in this book have been partially inspired by real-life women and the various situations that they find themselves in, with love, loss, joy, grief and happiness. The maidens here give us an understanding of what women go through emotionally from the perspective of Indian society and its collective psyche. These stories in this book are not only a unique read for all the women; they will also enable the men in this country to examine their role from a broader perspective as fathers, brothers, husbands, uncles and friends. All the stories in ‘Maidens of Fate’ are very interesting and will feel like edgy thrillers.

The Things We Do For Love

by Raunak Agarwal

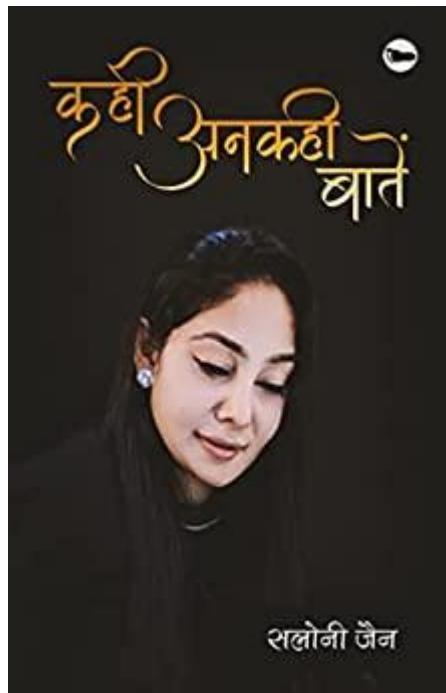

Love is not just about being in a relationship, it's much more than that... what would you do if you were caught up in a love triangle, but without the love? What if this love that you keep seeking, never really left? Rudra, who thinks that he has started developing feelings for ruhani, is aghast when she chooses her best friend over him – simply because her best friend is jealous. Set out on a task to bring ruhani to her senses, he decides to go all in for the only girl in his life. But, when things go too far, and he finally gets a choice, will Rudra continue to be ruhani's SA VI or? Or will he find his own happy ending? Narrated by Rudra, the things we do for love, first of a two-part romance, dramatizes his quest for companionship. With a foray of jealousy, multiple second chances, and, bad and uninformed choices, this love-story by Raunak Agarwal is as relatable as his poetry. Excerpts from the book: There are moments when what the other person says or does has no impact on you because the wound cuts so deep that it doesn't even give you any time to convey emotions. It just hurts. You carry on with your usual self as if nothing ever happened, but deep within you, It hurts, it hurts like hell. What is it with us? It's like we don't fall in love, friendship, or anything with people anymore. We connect with clothes, then we connect with their bodies and when we finally connect with the actual person, we don't like them. We humans are stupid. In lack of choice, we cling on to the first person that we see and call it love. It's only when we get a choice that we realize if the love was true or not. There is something about making women laugh, it does wonders on them. They say a way to man's heart is through his stomach. It's the same for women as well. While we men demand food, women look for butterflies.

FIGHTING PATRIARCHY

by Dr. Natasha

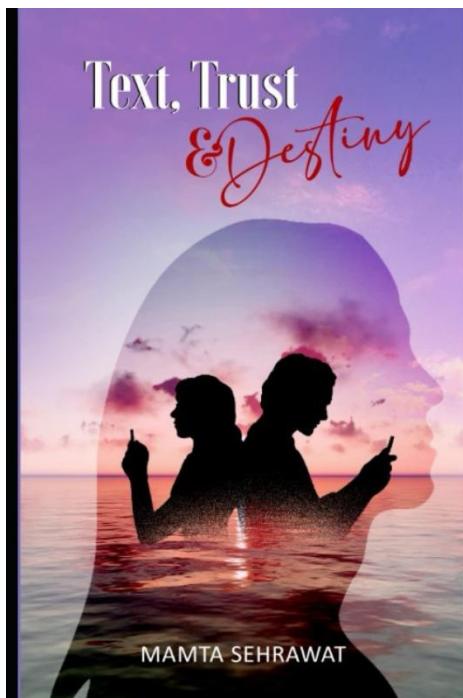

She was a very intelligent, strong, independent and pretty girl, but at the same time, too simple and naive for this world. She saw only good in others, and could never hurt anyone, always wanting to help everyone. All she wished for in life was to be able to serve the poor and needy, and live a simple and peaceful life. When she met the boy of her dreams, in medical college, she thought her wishes would come true, with love and happiness in life forever, as she never could see evil in anyone. But alas, destiny had other plans in mind, and the next three decades of her life were anything but “simple and peaceful”. They were filled with disrespect and abuse towards her and her two loving kids, every single day. For all the love, respect, loyalty and devotion she gave her husband, she received an equal amount of abuse, lies, and deceit. But God rewarded her for her good karma, and she finally mustered the courage to leave her husband, after 28 years of married life with him. This book is the true story of this doctor, and how she was able to finally break free from her extremely toxic husband, and work towards her own healing. Despite being in a legal battle with her husband at the time of writing this book , she lives a peaceful life on her own terms. Her only wish now is to empower and awaken at least a handful of women who are in abusive relationships, so that they break their silence and don't keep suffering for so long and can find the courage to take control of their own lives. The stigma in society is still so great, that in spite of abuse being a reality in almost every other household in our country, people prefer to keep it hush and advise the victims to just carry on with their lives.

Miss Stranger

by Umesh Jakhar

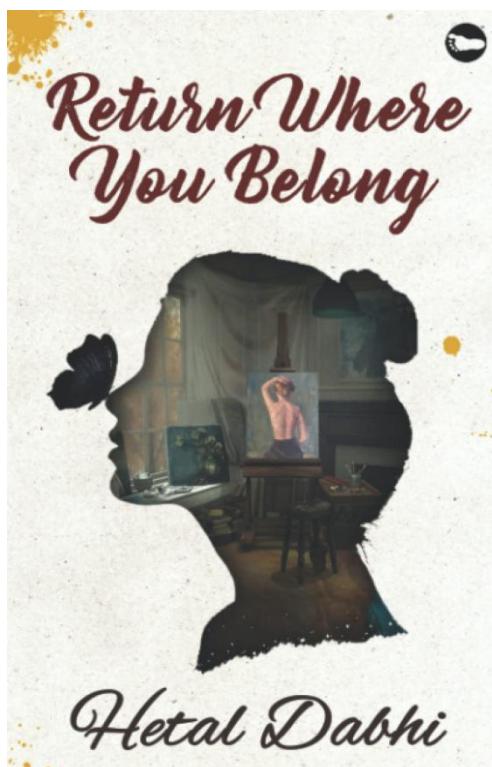

I was highly logical like other iitians. But still quite different from them as I used to perceive things logically while also adding My own flavour of theories that I possess. Sometimes My theories were accepted among My friends, sometimes it created a lot of controversies, which lead to a night-out session of a long discussion, early morning tea and laughing on stupid discussions.

Naturally, My opinion about love was also quite different. I believed every person has both some good and bad as well in them. And for me, I Can love anyone who understands me. And My theory suggests that we can't love anyone who doesn't love us. And we can't love anyone without understanding the other being. Without meeting someone. Without spending time. In short, we can't fall in love with a stranger. But it was only a theory, never tested before.

Udaan

by Dr. Pallavi Vijendta Singh

“हर घाव से उभरते रहने का नाम है जिंदगी, हर ठहराव से आगे बढ़ते रहने का नाम है जिंदगी।”

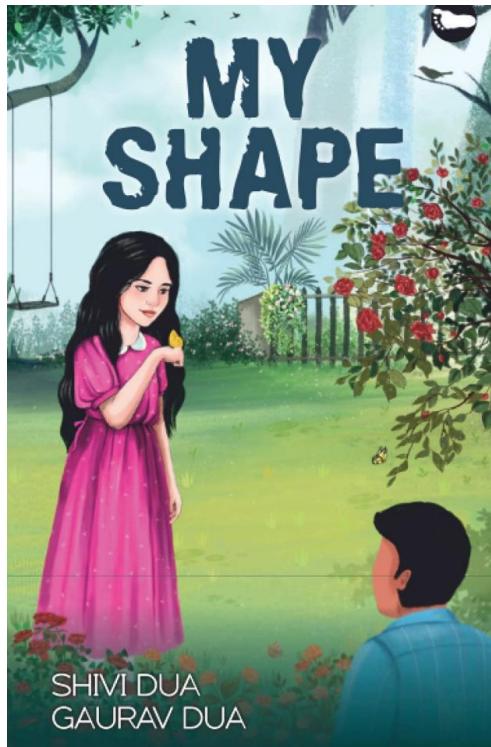

“टकराव और सुलह तो जिंदगी के दो पहलू हैं”, उछालने पर गर टकराव आए, तो आपका क्रोध जीतता हैं,
और सुलह दिखे तो आपका स्नेह जीतता हैं।

“समय की धारा विपरीत बहे या साथ चले, बस एक मुस्कान साथ रखना ”

जिंदगी को करीब से जानने के लिए जरुरी है उसे संयम से पढ़ना। फिर समय जैसा भी आये, संयम नहीं खोना चाहिए। अंत में जो आपके हाथ आता है, वो है अनुभवों का धन। ऐसे ही कुछ अनुभवों की डोर से हमने बांधी है कविताओं की पंक्तियाँ। गर मेल खा जाए आपकी घटनाओं से, तो उलझे हुए प्रश्नों के हल मिल जाएंगे। अनुभव औरों का हो या स्वयं का, वो ऐसी पूँजी है जो कभी व्यर्थ नहीं जाती।

Shikshit Smaaj Banayein

by Amit Jha

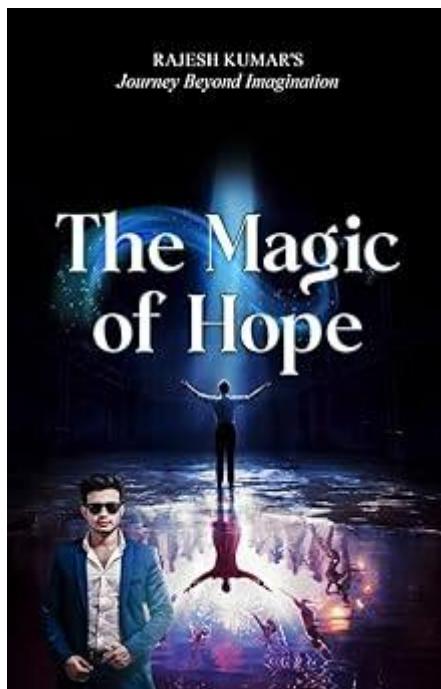

अक्सर लोग आजकल कहते हैं कि जीवन में सुख और शांति चाहिए तो बहुत सारा पैसा /धन, आर्थिक सम्पन्नता जरूरी है लेकिन ये धारणा बिलकुल गलत है। अगर आपको अपने जीवन में शांति और सुख की अभिलाषा है तो आपको सही और गलत

का ज्ञान होना आवश्यक है। मैंने अपने जीवन में जो देखा और अनुभव किया है। उस दृष्टि से, आज के समाज में लोगों के बीच जो व्यवहार हो रहा है। इसको लेकर एक शिक्षित समाज हम कैसे बना सकतें हैं। कैसे एक युवा, इस किताब से प्रेरणा लेकर अपने प्रति, अपने परिवार के प्रति, अपने समाज के प्रति, और अपने देश के प्रति जिम्मेदारी का निर्वहन कर सकते हैं। अपने से बड़ों का आदर करना, समाज के प्रति जो कर्तव्य है उसके के लिए जागरूक रहना, ईमानदारी केवल ४ किताब पढ़कर, डिग्रीधारी न बनें। इस किताब का उद्देश्य, प्रत्येक व्यक्ति को समाज के उन नैतिक मूल्यों से अवगत करवाना है, जिससे सामाजिक दृष्टिकोण शिक्षा के क्षेत्र में एक व्यापक रूप ले सके। और कर्मठता का परिचय देते हुए समाज को आगे ले के चलना। हमारा यही कहना है की शिक्षण संस्थानों में केवल किताबी ज्ञान तक ही सीमित न रहे। इसके अलावा भी ज्ञान प्राप्त करने की कोशिश करें जो आपके व्यक्तित्व का निर्माण कर सके। अपने समाज के प्रति जो कर्तव्य और जिम्मेदारी हैं उसका निर्वहन करें और एक शिक्षित समाज बनाने की ओर अपना कदम बढ़ाएं, जिससे आने वाली पीढ़ी बेलगाम न बनें। धन्यवाद

This book is an attempt to construct such a latticework, encompassing diverse disciplines and presenting the big ideas in a unified, accessible form. महादेवी वर्मा के अनुसार कविता कवि विशेष की भावनाओं का वर्णन है और वह चित्रण इतना ठीक है कि उससे वैसी ही भावनाएँ किसी दूसरे के हृदय में भी आविभूत होती हैं। 'अवध के सीता राम' इसी कसौटी पर कसा हुआ, आचार्य रामचंद्र शुक्ल के

शब्दों में, हृदय की मुक्त साधना का शब्द विधान है। इसमें कविता की विभिन्न विधाओं एवं रसों का मिश्रण है। जहाँ 'पुरुष प्रकृति से दोष जगा, अनुचित सर्वथा रहा मुझको' में पुरुषों में अपने स्वभावजनित दोषों को मानने की शक्ति क्षमता प्रदर्शित है वहीं अगले ही प्रसंग 'तुम तो नारी धृति शील क्षमा, लक्ष्मी मूरति देखूँ तुमको' में नारियों के प्रधान गुणों की सराहना भी है। जहाँ एक ओर 'छ छकर देख रहे लड़के, कोई कूद कूद चढ़ता ऊपर' में बाल वानरों का अद्भुत रस है वहीं 'जब देखा वीर जटायू वट, बह चला नीर दृग तीनों के' में करुण रस का रसास्वादन है। जहाँ 'स्नेह प्यार के रंग मिला, मुँह लाल किया रघुवीर में शृंगार रस के दर्शन हैं वहीं 'खिल खिला उठीं वनिताएँ सब, हैं हाथ कहाँ? संगीत कहाँ?' में हास्य रस का भी मिश्रण है। या फिर चपल मनोहर छवियाँ, उतरेंगी आँगन में 'वात्सल्य भाव से भरे वाल्मीकि की मनोदशा दर्शाता है, वहीं 'सुचिता समता जन जीवन हो, यह भाव शीघ्र लाना होगा' नीति-धर्म की अटलता पर विश्वास जगाता है। अंत में 'भर गया ग्लानि से मन उनका, कितना उत्पात हुआ जग में' में वीभत्स रस प्रकट होता है तो उसका परिणाम 'मैं बैठूँगा अब मग्न ध्यान, एकांत निवास करूँगा अब शांत रस में प्रकट होता है। इन्हीं रसों, छंदों, गीतों, चौपहियों, दोहों, घटनाओं, भावनाओं, कल्पनाओं, तर्कों आदि का समुद्र है यह खण्ड काव्य ।

Of Centres and Margins Issues and Conflicts

by Dr Nilanjan Chakraborty

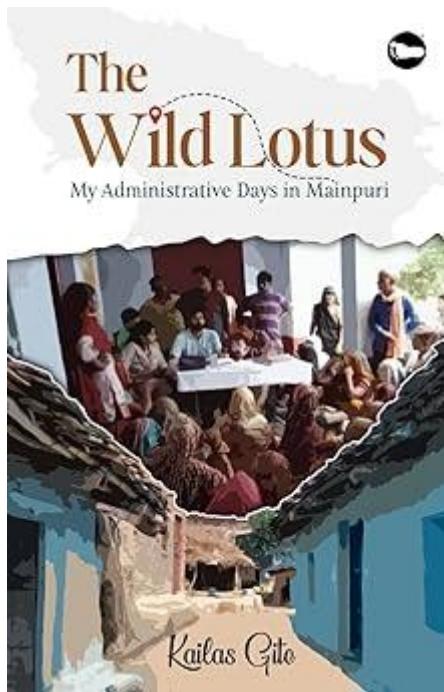

The book concentrates on Postcolonial and Gender studies from the perspective of centre-margin conflict. Post the grand political design of colonialism, Europe positioned itself as the 'centre' of art, culture, science and intellect. This political stance wanted to create the image of Europe as the 'standard' in the process of knowledge production. The Postcolonial studies questioned this centering politics of European knowledge production and putting the colonised to the margins. Similarly, Feminists questioned the aesthetic and political representations that put the 'male' at the centre. The Marxists interrogated the centering of the bourgeois and class politics to put the subalterns at the margins. The book looks into these issues by applying various literary and cultural theories on literary texts, both narrative and visual, to study the issue of the centre-margin conflict. The centre itself is a contested site in Postcolonial, Gender and Marxist studies, questioning the centrality of race, nation, gender and class.

However, in Postmodern praxis, the centre-margin dialectics move towards a more fluid dynamics where both the centre and the margin obfuscate towards a kinetics of plural dimensions. The Deconstructionists like Derrida construct the notion of infinite deferment of the centre to the point where the centre moves into its own absolution.

The book will look into these issues through theoretical lens applied on literary texts, ranging from authors like Chinua Achebe and Eavan Boland to William Shakespeare and Mahasweta Devi.

Memento Mori

by Dyuthi Robin

I began writing my second book without giving much thought to its theme, but when I finally finished the book, the themes of love, longing, life and death became the central themes, in each and every poem death lurks around, and so does life. Ideas of time and the brevity of life are constantly mentioned in this collection. However, it was only after I read Mrs Saritha Verma's foreword to my poetry collection and her one particular remark "why is there a haunting obsession with death! Death is a presence, almost supernatural, in many of her works." that I realized that in fact, I was not obsessed with the idea of death, but rather with the idea of existing and not existing.

If I try to put them in much simpler terms it would be something like, "the idea of opening and closing your eyes".

Closing my eyes is the closest to death I can experience, the uncertainty of it, the ambiguity of it and the dark corners of it. The world ceases to exist when I close my eyes, time stays still and nothing matters all of a sudden, and yet when I open them again I go back to the land of the living where there's light and where time mercilessly carries on its stampede. The times I have died are uncountable, around 20000 times a day! (scientifically speaking), IMemento Mori do not exist 20000 times a day; the rest of the time, I exist as I perceive. The question remains, does anything exist outside our brain? are we just our thoughts and chemical processes? I'd rather not address this question and proceed to glorify life and death as something beyond us, beyond human; for poetic purposes. There is no denying that it's a joy to be alive, to open your eyes and see, to exist; but so is to die, to close your eyes and see, to not exist. The realization that we might not exist the next moment unlocks the unlimited potential in us, the awareness of death makes us philosophers, poets and leaders, it gives colour and meaning to a rather gloomy picture, and so it's only natural for a poet to romanticize death and write a book about it, therefore ultimately this book is about love, for everything raw and grotesque, rosy and delicate. When it came to finding a title for this book, I did so with the utmost caution,

I did not want to mislead my readers into thinking it's a cheerful read, though it could be (no promises), and so I decided on the title ' Memento Mori'. The Latin phrase Memento Mori means 'remember that you have to die'; it assures you of death, its certainty and promise but most importantly it reminds you to live!. This humble author, aware of this promise, wrote this book only to look back at life and smirk at death, stare into its cold dead eyes knowing that I knew it from the beginning and for as long as I existed I was high on life, yearned for loveMemento Mori and misery alike, pleasure and pain alike and was only waiting to close my eyes. Dedicated to the demise of my teenage years. With love, Dyuthi mountains. Rii, Hima, Sepu and Newton are schoolmates whose normal and ordinary lives are upturned by strange events happening in their nondescript little valley. Their usual playful and normal days seem to be at an end because they can't wrap their little heads around the bizarre things unfolding in the world around them - things that will change their lives forever. It all begins when hordes of large rats infest their beloved school and the teachers begin to behave strange and aloof, they discover talking-termites in the forgotten library, the headmaster has locked himself up in his room for days and a stranger keeps loitering about the school gate. It only gets weirder when the kids discover that Newton's grandfather wrote a book almost thirty years ago, of which no copies survive now. They realize that the book is probably the key to all these mysteries – it contains some secrets about rats and an old visit by an unknown flying saucer over their town all those years ago. This triggers the four curious young minds about endless possibilities to be explored. And the adventurous quest begins – where the kids desperately seek to reach the dark bottom of the mystery. And on the way, while solving the strange riddle, they shall learn a thing or two about science, the world, the universe and probably even something as mysterious as the meaning of life.

CATALOGUE

maidens of Fate

by Saurav Ranjan Datta

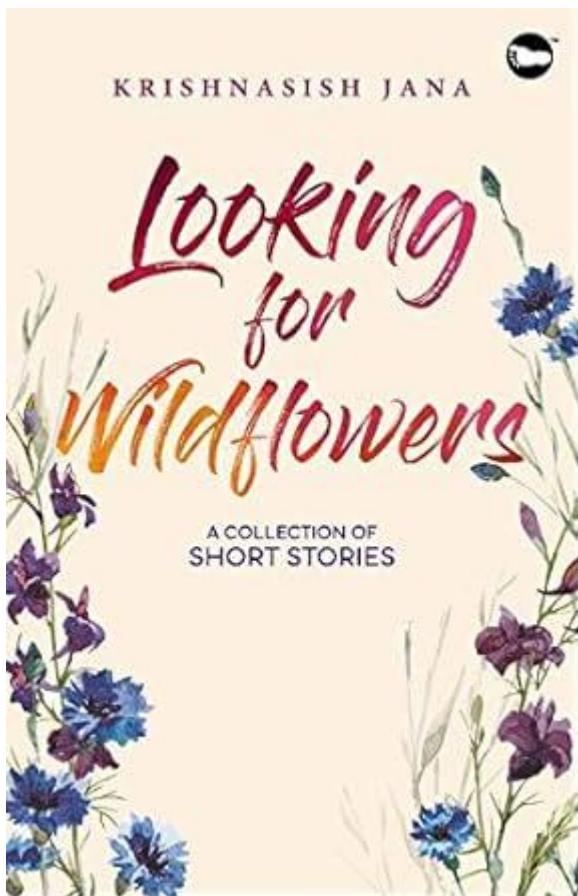

The position of women is unique in India. At one hand, we worship them as representatives of the Primordial Mother Goddess, but on the other hand, they are subjected to numerous atrocities. This 'weltanschauung', a comprehensive conception in our minds of the power of a primordial mother goddess in each woman is present in every Indian's life and resonates with the belief that this feminine superpower will look after all her children in the form of a mortal mother, whose love for her children is considered the greatest in this world. However, at the same time, a girl child is not desirable in the majority of the households here. This is such a paradox that has amazed everybody all across the world. 'Maidens of Fate' tells the stories of twelve such Indian women in their various trials and tribulations in this vast land. All the stories in this book have been partially inspired by real-life women and the various situations that they find themselves in, with love, loss, joy, grief and happiness. The maidens here give us an understanding of what women go through emotionally from the perspective of Indian society and its collective psyche. These stories in this book are not only a unique read for all the women; they will also enable the men in this country to examine their role from a broader perspective as fathers, brothers, husbands, uncles and friends. All the stories in 'Maidens of Fate' are very interesting and will feel like edgy thrillers.

MISS STRANGER

by Umesh Jakhar

I was highly logical like other iitians. But still quite different from them as I used to perceive things logically while also adding My own flavour of theories that I possess.

Sometimes My theories were accepted among My friends, sometimes it created a lot of controversies, which lead to a night-out session of a long discussion, early morning tea and laughing on stupid discussions. Naturally, My opinion about love was also quite different. I believed every person has both some good and bad as well in them. And for me, I Can love anyone who understands me. And My theory suggests that we can't love anyone who doesn't love us.

And we can't love anyone without understanding the other being. Without meeting someone. Without spending time.

In short, we can't fall in love with a stranger. But it was only a theory, never tested before.

Guldasta e shabd

by SANIA SAIFI

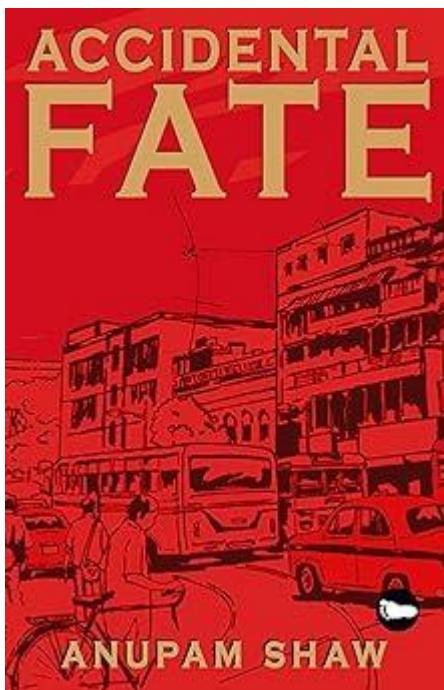

इसे किताब कहना ठीक नहीं होगा, न ही यह किसी तरीके की कोई कलेक्शन है; जैसा कि इसके नाम से ही ज़ाहिर है, 'गुलदस्ता-ए-शब्द', अल्फाजों या शब्दों का एक गुलदस्ता है, जो सानिया सैफ़ी इसे पढ़ने वालों को देना चाहती हैं। गुलदस्ता इसलिए, क्योंकि इसमें लिखा हर अल्फाज़ शायरा के दिल के बहुत करीब हैं। इस गुलदस्ते में जहाँ एक नज़म भारत के बंटवारे का दर्द बयाँ करती हुई नज़र आती हैं, वहीं पर इशिक्या अंदाज़ में कुछ अल्फाज़, अपने महबूब की जुदाई या उसके मेल को शेरों के रूप में खुद को लिखा हुआ पाते हैं। ये दोनों ही विषय, शायरा के दिल के बहुत करीब हैं क्योंकि उनका मानना है कि इंसान का ज़ेहेन बस इश्क करना जानता है लेकिन उसके आस-पास की यह दुनिया उसे बंटकर और बांटकर रहना सिखाती है। यही वजह है कि इसका नाम 'गुलदस्ता-ए-शब्द' जहाँ पर एक अल्फाज़ उर्दू का है और एक शब्द हिंदी का। इस ही वजह से इसकी सभी नज़में और सभी शेर हिन्दुस्तानी भाषा में हैं, जो कि अपने आप में ही इस देश की एकता और अमन का प्रतीक है। शायरा का मानना

है कि इंसान बाहरी तौर पर जितनी तरक्की करता जा रहा है, वह अन्दर से उतना ही खाली होता जा रहा है। कहने को तो 'मॉडर्न' हो गया है, लेकिन जातिवाद जैसी चीज़ें आज भी उसे अन्दर से खोखला करती जा रही हैं। मॉडर्न होने के साथ-साथ इंसान आज के लाइफ-स्टाइल की वजह से बहुत सी ज़ेहेनी बीमारियों से भी घिरता जा रहा है। आप बहुत सी नज़रों में शायरा की इस सोच को शब्दों का रूप लेते हुए पाएंगे। 'गुलदस्ता-ए-शब्द' एक कोशिश है, शब्दों के गुलों की खुशबू को आपकी रुह तक पहुँचाने की।

ZINDGI AGAR GULZAR HOTI

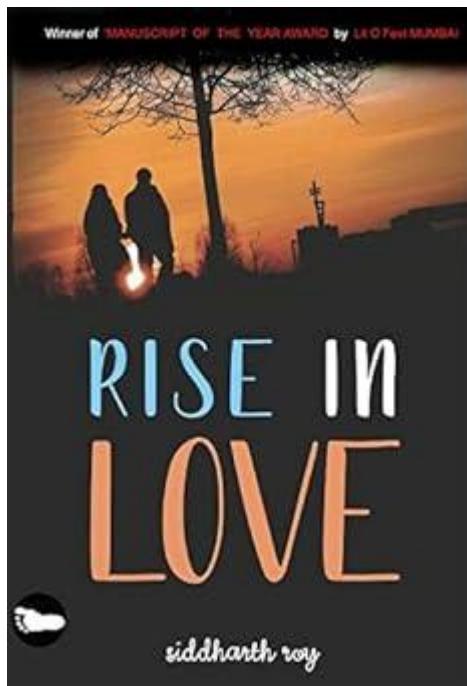

by Anuj

“जिंदगी अगर गुलजार होती, तो पतझड़ क्यों होता मौसम क्यों बदलता, हर हवा बाहर क्यों ना होती...” “वो मेरे गीतों से सजती सवरती थी मेरे शेरों को तोफों में कबूल किया करती थी.” “एक बार नजर इधर कर दे, इस नाचीज़ की कदर कर दे लबों से छूले, इस शराब को जहर कर दे पिएंगे तो तेरे हाथों से, मरेंगे तो तेरे हाथों से कितनी हसीन बनके मौत आई, मजा आ गया...” जिंदगी और मोहब्बत को करीब से जानने वालों की शायरी एक महफिल है. इसी महफिल के रंगमंच पर खड़ा होकर आज मैं अपने कुछ गीत सुनाता हूं। इन गीतों के साथ साथ आपको मेरी धड़कन में भी सुनाई देगी. मेरी धड़कनों में आपको अपनी धड़कन भी मिलेगी, और मेरे लफ़ज़ों में आपको अपने लफ़ज़ भी मिलेंगे. और जब आप और हम मिलेंगे तभी मेरी शायरी मुकम्मल होगी, वरना मैं भी अधूरा और मेरी शायरी भी। मेरे गीतों में जिंदगी और मोहब्बत के बीच एक रिश्ता मिलेगा क्योंकि जिंदगी तब समझ आई जब मोहब्बत हुई और मोहब्बत तब मिली जब जिंदगी मिली।

THE THINGS WE DO FOR LOVE

by Raunak Agarwal

Love is not just about being in a relationship, it's much more than that... what would you do if you were caught up in a love triangle, but without the love? What if this love that you keep seeking, never really left? Rudra, who thinks that he has started developing feelings for ruhani, is aghast when she chooses her best friend over him – simply because her best friend is jealous. Set out on a task to bring ruhani to her senses, he decides to go all in for the only girl in his life. But, when things go too far, and he finally gets a choice, will Rudra continue to be ruhani's SA VI or? Or will he find his own happy ending? Narrated by Rudra, the things we do for love, first of a two-part romance, dramatizes his quest for companionship. With a foray of jealousy, multiple second chances, and, bad and uninformed choices, this love-story by Raunak Agarwal is as relatable as his poetry. Excerpts from the book: There are moments when what the other person says or does has no impact on you because the wound cuts so deep that it doesn't even give you any time to convey emotions.

It just hurts. You carry on with your usual self as if nothing ever happened, but deep within you, It hurts, it hurts like hell. What is it with us? It's like we don't fall in love, friendship, or anything with people anymore. We connect with clothes, then we connect with their bodies and when we finally connect with the actual person, we don't like them. We humans are stupid. In lack of choice, we cling on to the first person that we see and call it love. It's only when we get a choice that we realize if the love was true or not. There is something about making women laugh, it does wonders on them. They say a way to man's heart is through his stomach. It's the same for women as well. While we men demand food, women look for butterflies.

"Law For The Laymen Or Only For The Lawyers"

by Ekata Deb

The book presents an inquiry into the ownership and beneficiaries of the Laws of the Land. Do the laws effectively serve the general public or are they primarily accessible and used by legal professionals? The central theme of this literary work is the pervasive issue of legal illiteracy within the larger context of today's India. This book has been authored by a law student in her final year of study, with the objective of fostering an Enlightenment in the realm of Criminal Laws. Additionally, she has encountered her fair share of unpleasant trials and tribulations within the realm of judicial proceedings, as well as a distressing personal history that served as a catalyst for her pursuit of legal studies and dedication to work for Justice. The author emphasizes the need to instill in the minds of individuals a deep understanding of the fundamental tenets of law, particularly with regard to the principles of Natural Justice, the Supremacy of law, and the Rule of law. According to the author, the notion that
